PREFACE TO FIFTH EDITION.

THIS book contains forty designs, all of which were prepared by a well-known Boston Architect whose extended European travel rendered him peculiarly fitted for the work, and the designs embody many of the best ideas of the best brick work in England and the Continent. Most of the sketches are reproduced from the architect's drawings, but in a few instances we have substituted reproductions of photographs. We make the brick of six different colors, viz.:—red, cream, buff, pink, brown and gray, thus giving you the choice of a color which will harmonize with, or contrast properly with, any other scheme of surrounding decoration.

The designs can most of them be altered to fit a required space, so that our customers need not give up the idea of selecting a certain design which may have pleased them the most, just because it does not happen to be of the right size. We can generally make it of the right size.

The brick are carefully packed in sawdust, in barrels, and with every shipment we furnish an architect's scale drawing and directions, and any intelligent mason can easily set the mantels up.

As to the item of expense, our Fireplace Mantels do not cost any more than a plain brick fireplace with a wooden mantel around it, and in some cases our mantels cost less. The prices quoted in this book include packing in barrels and delivery to cars or steamer at Boston.

Nearly every modern house, large or small, has at least one open fireplace, and while formerly they were only placed in down-stairs rooms, it has now become almost a universal custom to place them in chambers as well. They ensure nearly perfect ventilation to a room, and there is nothing in the world more cheerful and more satisfying than a bright fire in a well-built open fireplace.

The essential idea of a fireplace is "Brick" from beginning to end, and the practice of using a brick facing with a wooden mantel surrounding it (a practice which is now rapidly passing away) has only been a sort of makeshift, employed because Ornamental Brick were not obtainable; our company being the first to manufacture new and artistic patterns of Ornamental Brick for Fireplace Mantels. There is always a large amount of wood-work in every room, especially when the furniture is added, and the eye is pleased by an absence of wood-work about the fireplace. The use of iron linings for fireplaces has been most generally condemned as the iron not only has a gloomy look, but being such a good conductor most of the heat goes up chimney.

The increased and now general use of glazed tiles for bath-rooms, public entrances, etc., has made it very undesirable to consider their use in connection with fireplaces, and then again they have a cold, hard, and glassy look. There is no kind of fireplace sold that so completely fills all requirements as those we make of Ornamental Brick. Our Mantels, unlike wooden Mantels, will not swell, nor shrink, nor peel, nor crack, nor blister, nor catch fire, and they do not have to be varnished or painted every few years. They look just as well in after years as they do when new. Beside being substantial and durable, they have that soft, rich and pleasing appearance so much sought for in interior decoration. They are entirely free from any cheap or gaudy look and have that charm of artistic simplicity which one never tires of. Of all kinds, ours are the most unique, the fittest and the best.

SKETCH No. 1.

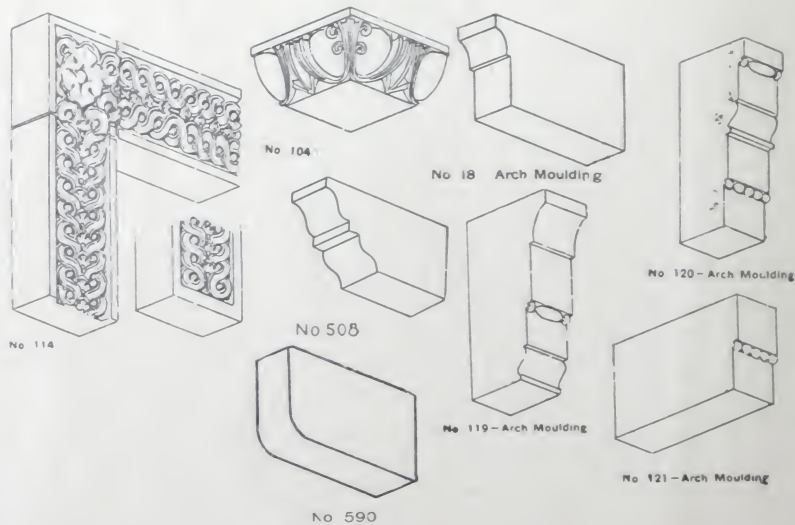

A mantel with an arched fireplace and a niche above it. This mantel should have nearly the width indicated below, as the arch would not look well in a much narrower fireplace. The hobs may be omitted, if desired.

Width of breast	7 feet 6 inches	Height of opening	2 feet 8 inches.
Height of mantel	7 " 4 "	Width between hobs	2 " 6 "
Width of opening	4 " 9 "

Price of red face and moulded bricks necessary to lay up this mantel, including the hearth, fire-back, under-fire, and tile shelf, $85.

Price of cream, buff, brown, pink or gray bricks, $127.

Below is a drawing of each ornamental brick used in this design.

SKETCH No. 2.

This sketch suggests a mantel in two shades of brick. All the face brick showing white in sketch will be of cream bricks; all the other bricks will be gray. Hearth of red tile.

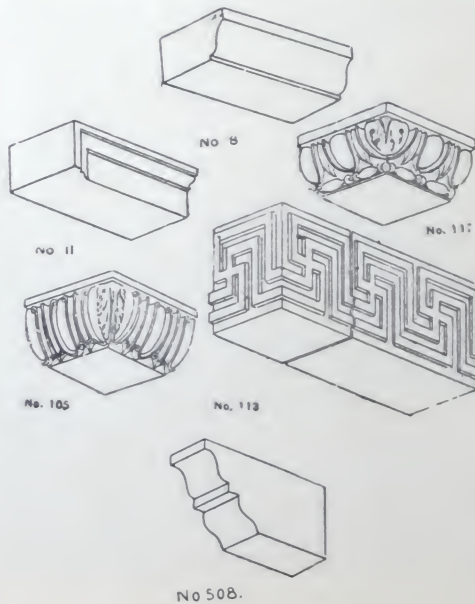

Width of breast	. . . 5 feet 6 inches.	Width of opening	. . . 2 feet 6 inches.
Height of mantel	. . . 5 " 5 "	Height of opening	. . . 2 " 5 "

Price of red face and moulded bricks necessary to lay up this mantel, including the hearth, fire-back, under-fire, and tile shelf, $38.

Price of cream, buff, brown, pink, or gray bricks, $57.

Price of cream, with gray moulded work, $57.

Below is a drawing of each ornamental brick used in this design.

SKETCH No. 3.

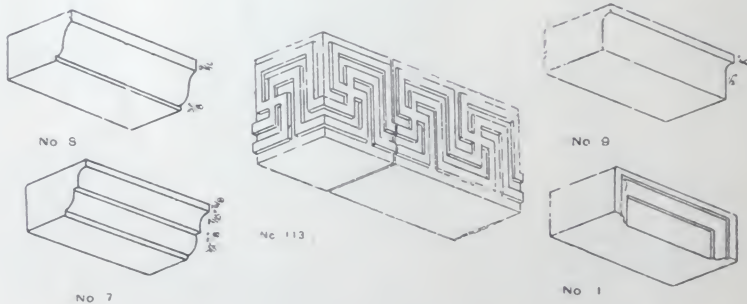

A low mantel with panel pilasters and enriched architrave.

Width of breast	. 7 feet 6 inches	Width of opening	. 3 feet 6 inches.
Height of mantel	. 4 " 4 "	Height of opening	. 2 " 7 "

Price of red face and moulded bricks necessary to lay up this mantel, including the hearth, fire-back, under-fire, and tile shelf, $34.

Price of cream, buff, gray, pink, or brown bricks, $50

Below is a drawing of each ornamental brick used in this design.

SKETCH No. 4.

A handsome high mantel, with a wide niche above the fireplace. This design requires a wooden cornice at the top, forming a shelf.

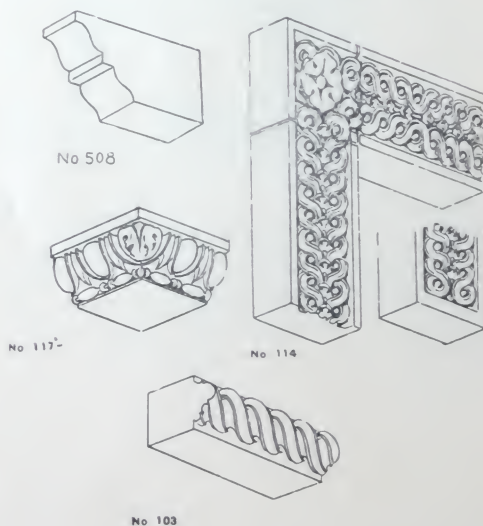

Width of breast	6 feet 8 inches.	Width of opening	. . 2 feet 10 inches.
Height of mantel,	7 " 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ "	Height of opening	. . 2 " 3 "

Price of red face and moulded bricks necessary to lay up this mantel, including the hearth, fire-back, under-fire, and tile shelf, $57.

Price of cream, buff, gray, pink, or brown bricks, $86.

Price of wood cornice not included.

Below is a drawing of each ornamental brick used in this design.

SKETCH No. 5.

This design would require a width of 7 feet 6 inches, as the arched motif could not be used advantageously in a mantel of more than 8 inches less in width. The cornice to the mantel is of wood

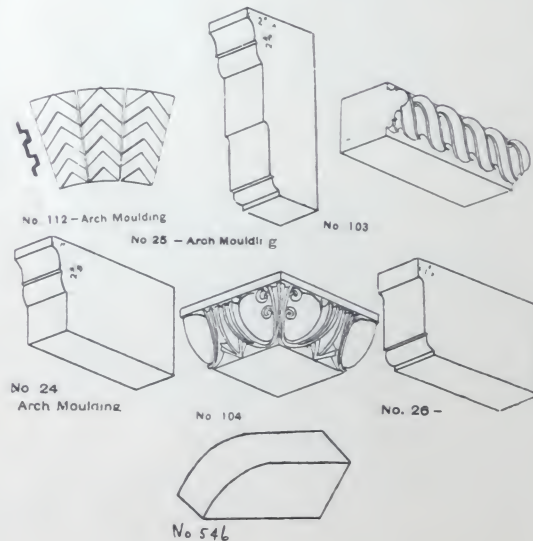

Width of breast	7 feet 6 inches	Width of opening	4 feet 9 inches.
Height of mantel	7 " 3 "	Height of opening	2 " 8 "

Price of red face and moulded bricks necessary to lay up this mantel, including the hearth, fire-back, under-fire and tile shelf, $66.

Price of cream, buff, gray, pink or brown bricks, $100.

Price of wood cornice not included.

SKETCH No II.

A new and beautiful feature is introduced in this design. The mosaic decoration is made of the same clay as the brick in a great variety of shades. Assume all the plain and carved bricks in this design a warm gray color, and the tones of the mosaic decorations, as indicated in sketch, from a dark warm gray to cream. This scheme of color can be produced in reds, etc. A frame $\frac{1}{4}$ inch x $1\frac{1}{2}$ inch wrought iron and brackets around the fireplace opening form a part of this design.

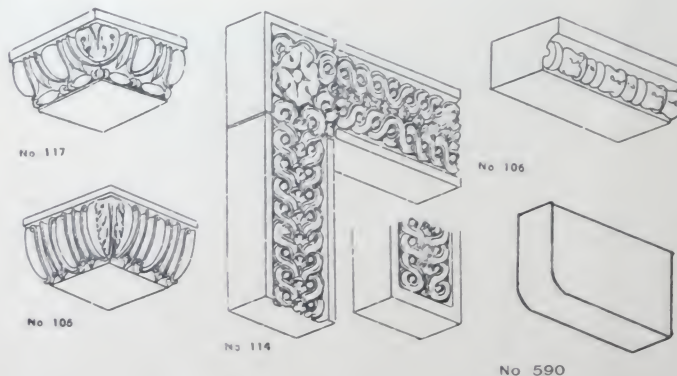

Width of breast	5 feet 6 inches.	Width between hobs	2 feet 9 inches.
Height of mantel	7 "	Height of opening	2 " 6 "
Width of opening	3 " 5 "

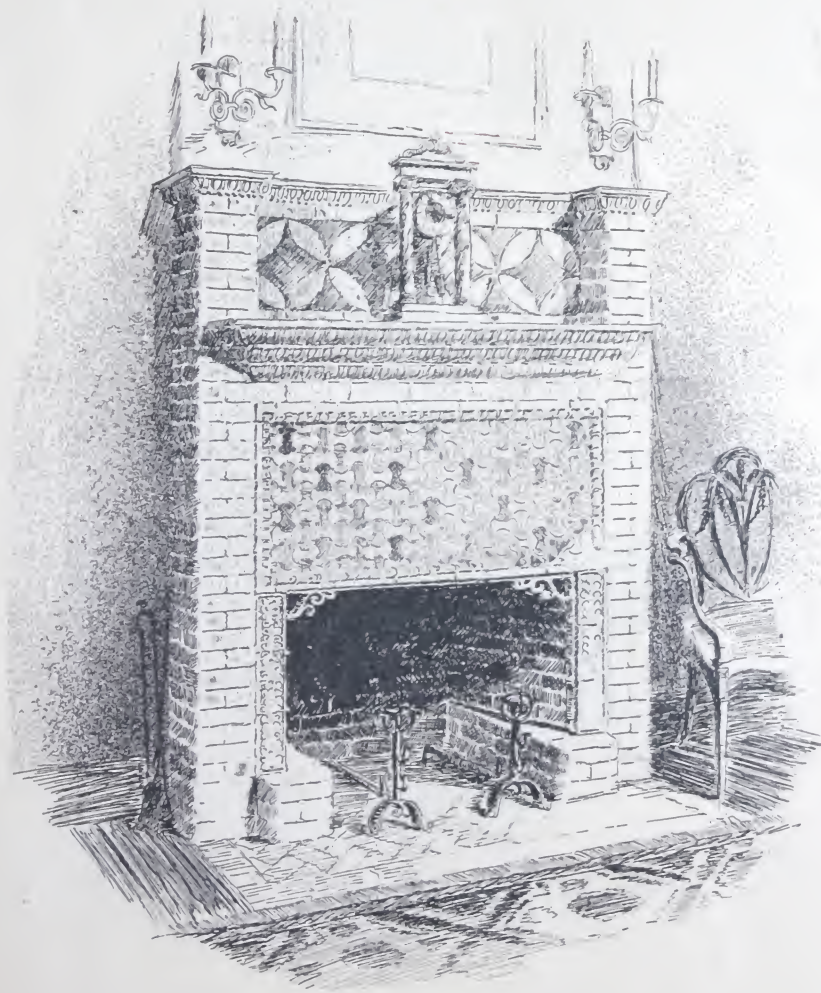

Price of red face and moulded bricks necessary to lay up this mantel including the hearth, fire-back, under-fire, and tile shelf, $50.

Price of cream, gray, pink, buff, or brown bricks, $75.

Price of frame and brackets $6 additional.

Below is a drawing of each ornamental brick used in this design.

SKETCH No. 12.

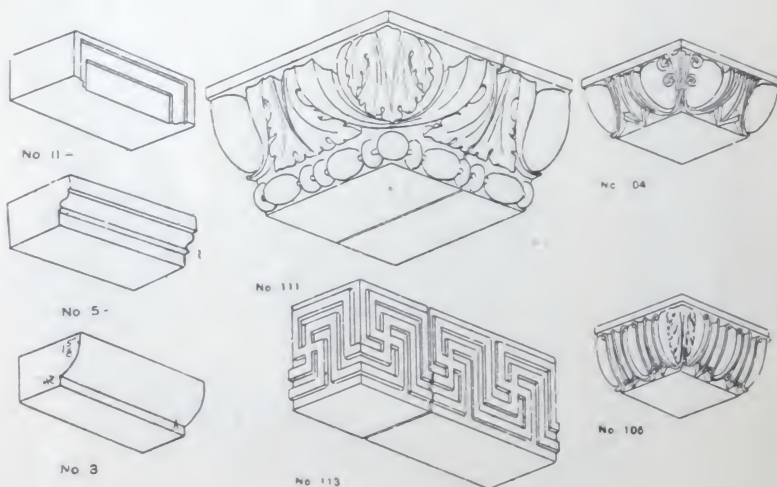

This illustration shows a design adapting the form of mantel frequently seen in England and France, with a hood extending to the ceiling. The fire-place opening may be from 3 feet 6 inches to 4 feet 6 inches in width, without changing the height of the mantel. If a wider opening is desired, the proportion of the mantel should be changed, and we would be pleased to prepare a drawing for the same. This design would look well in a large hall, in a residence or in a public building as a library, assembly hall, or hotel.

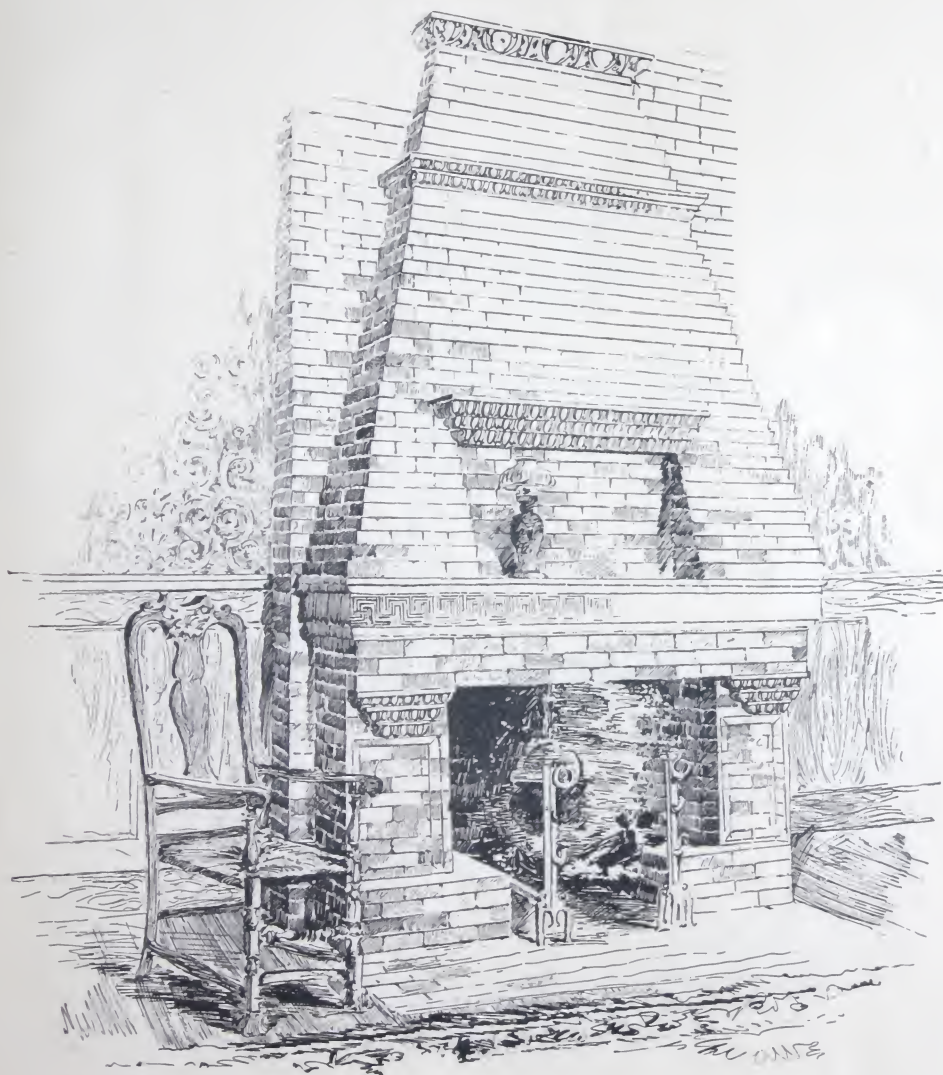

Width of breast	7 feet 6 inches.	Width of opening	4 feet 1 inch.
Height of mantel	12 "	Height of opening	3 " 7 inches.

Price of red face and moulded bricks necessary to lay up this mantel, including the hearth, fire-back, under-fire, and tile shelf, $77.

Price of cream, gray, buff, pink or brown bricks, $115.

Below is a drawing of each ornamental brick used in this design.

SKETCH No. 13.

This also shows a hooded mantel, but much lower.

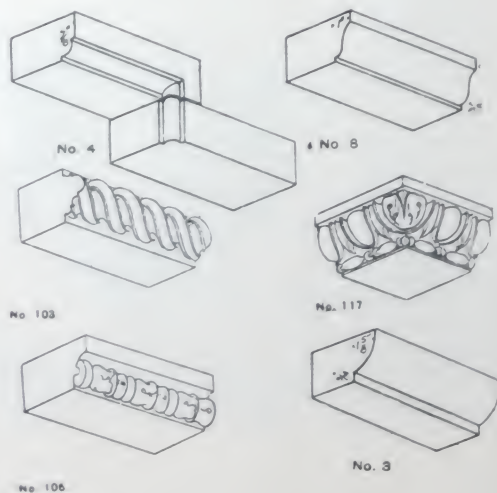

Width of breast	6 feet	Width of opening	2 feet 8 inches.
Height of mantel	5 "	Height of opening	2 " 7 "

Price of red face and moulded bricks necessary to lay up this mantel, including the hearth, fire-back, and under fire, $35.

Price of cream, buff, pink, gray, or brown bricks, $53.

Price with plain sides in cream bricks, and the corbels, lintel hood, and egg and dart at the top of a warm gray, $53.
